A hand-drawn sketch on a white background. A horizontal line runs across the middle of the page. A vertical line segment intersects this horizontal line from below, extending downwards. To the right of this intersection, the horizontal line continues and then curves upwards into a smooth, rounded shape. The text "#44" is written below the horizontal line, to the left of the curve. The text "Liberia Ln." is written below the horizontal line, to the right of the curve. At the bottom of the page, there is a thick horizontal line. A small circle is drawn on this bottom line, near the right edge, with a short line segment extending from it towards the bottom right corner.
